Dear High School Parents,

Good morning and Happy Day of the Dead! I take this opportunity to share with you some upcoming events taking place in high school.

Wesleyan University Dean of Admissions to Visit ASFG

Nancy Hargrave, the dean of admissions at Wesleyan University, will be visiting ASFG this coming Monday, November 6 to speak with students, teachers and parents about the application process to US universities. She comes with a wealth of knowledge and experience as a seasoned admissions officer. Nancy will visit with students during 11th grade English classes and during our 2nd recess. She will speak with teachers about the college essay and at 7:00 pm will speak to all interested high school parents in our auditorium about the university admissions process.

Noon Dismissal: Wednesday, November 15

Students will be dismissed at 12:00 pm to allow teachers time to score the student writing samples that were administered to students last week. Please mark your calendar with this important date.

Art Week, Auction and Festival

Please join us again this year for our annual Art Week. Find more information about this hallmark event at the following link: <http://asfg.mx/development/artfest.php>

Week Without Walls Updates

WWW Boston Update: Remember that Friday, November 3rd is the last day to enroll in the Boston trip. The first 40 students to enroll are assured a place on the trip.

WWW Germany Update: The last day to enroll in the Germany trip has been extended to Monday, November 6th. EF Tours has offered us an incentive available for students on this trip only. For every 20 students enrolled, EF Tours will raffle one ticket to London, Paris, Rome or any destination in the continental USA if you enroll by Friday, November 3rd at 8am.

WWW Spain Update: Due to the low number of students interested in participating in the Spain trip, this trip has been cancelled. As previously announced, 11th grade students may choose the Germany trip and 12th grade students may choose the Boston or Germany trip.
